BETTER MARKETING IS VITAL IN EGG DRIVE

AUBURN, Ala.—Proper marketing practices are vital to the success of the egg production program in 1942 designed to meet wartime requirements.

"Producing eggs means a lot more than giving hens all they need during the present emergency must be good eggs when they leave the farm and good ones when they reach the consumer."

Ivey maintains that production of quality eggs begins with producing fertile eggs, keeping the nests clean, collecting eggs at least three times daily, cooling them properly, packing in clean containers, and marketing efficiently.

Farm flock operators producing and marketing only infertile eggs this year are providing the best quality and quantity needed to supply growing wartime requirements.

RECORD CROP OF KUDZU SEED EXPECTED IN FALL

AUBURN, Ala.—With prospects this fall for Alabama's seed kudzu seed crop, farmers are urged to save every seed possible.

Kudzu growing in fields, along roads, and around the house should furnish seed to produce enough plants to cover thousands of acres.

Plans to save seed when they are fully matured, says S. R. Doughty, extension soil conservationist. One pound of seed which will probably sell for over $1, should produce 2,000 to 6,000 plants. Six pounds of pods yield around one pound of seed.

Doughty points out the great need for kudzu on every farm in the state and tells of its importance as a livestock feed and as a soil-building and erosion-resisting crop.

BEST METHOD OUTLINED FOR HARVESTING POTATOES

AUBURN, Ala.—Don't let the frost ruin your sweet potatoes before you plow them up, says Lyle Brown, extension horticulturist, who advises farmers to plow the potatoes from the ground before the first frost while the ground is still dry.

If farmers are growing sweet potatoes for the market they should harvest the potatoes when the largest quantity of market size potatoes can be expected. Quality rather than quantity must be considered to get the best market price.

The potatoes may be harvested with a large turn plow or middle buster but should not remain in the field over night or lie in the hot sun more than 30 minutes after being plowed from the ground. "Never place the potatoes in crates or containers that have sharp edges or rough places on the interior. In the field, the No. 1's and No. 2's and the broken and cull potatoes should each be placed in separate groups. Never throw the potatoes into heap rows," advises Brown.

Virgil Elmore Former Elbian Accident Victim

(Birmingham News)

Virgil J. Elmore, prominent Alabama business man, was killed Saturday morning when the automobile in which he was riding collided with a truck at 10th Avenue and 15th Street, South.

The meteoric career of Virgil J. Elmore, a small town boy from South Alabama who started from nothing and ended up the owner of a chain of more than 40 successful 5c and 10c stores, was ended Saturday when his automobile collided with a truck on the Southside.

The 54-year-old business executive, who only two years ago moved his offices from Clanton to Birmingham, was a native of Elba, in Coffee County. He started out with a small store and through the years built his chain store enterprises into one of the most successful in the South.

Office David Jones, of the Birmingham Police Department, who investigated, said the truck was driven by K. B. Gibson, 16, of 3817 Second Avenue South. Gibson was slightly injured, but not seriously.

Jones said he was obtaining a warrant charging Gibson with manslaughter. Another occupant of the truck, Lennie Mitchell, Negro, of 1622 1/2 Sixth Avenue, So., also suffered slight injuries. They were treated at Hillman Hospital.

Mr. Elmore is survived by his wife, Olive Rainer Elmore, a daughter, Olive Rainer Elmore, 20, a senior in the school of sociology at the University of Alabama, and a son, Jack Elmore, 11, a student at Lakewood School.

Mr. Elmore was a member of the Birmingham Country Club, the Masonic Order and American Legion. He served during the first World War as a lieutenant of infantry at Ft. McClellan.

He was a vice-president of the Alabama State Chamber of Commerce and a member of the Birmingham Chamber of Commerce.

The death of the business executive was the 23rd automobile fatality in the city during the year as compared with 25 this year last.

The Montgomery Advertiser had the following to say, in part, concerning Mr. Elmore's death: The passing of V. J. Elmore marks the climax to a success story rivaling the tales of Horatio Alger at his best. An easy-going, friendly, and successful man, Mr. Elmore dreamed of a business of his own. He got his first experience working in a store, later, he bought out the business, finally went into the variety store business with one store, and expanded until at the time of his death, he had 44.

All of the stores are in small towns of Alabama, and every few months in recent years business men read where V. J. Elmore was opening a variety store in some new town. His stores are located in all parts of the state, and his managers are all Alabama boys, trained by himself.

The funeral will be held in Birmingham today (Sunday) at 4 p. m., from Highlands Methodist Church, with the Rev. Marvin Franklin, assisted by the Rev. E. A. Childs, of Montgomery, and the Rev. T. C. Casaday, of Clanton, officiating. Burial will be in Elmwood cemetery, Birmingham.

Regular preaching services will be held at Elba Church of Christ next Sunday, Sept. 20. Morning service at 11 o'clock and evening service at 8 o'clock. The public is invited to attend both services.

HOW TO MAKE ELECTRICAL APPLIANCES LAST LONGER

1. Do not let the appliances overheat; turn off current when not in use.

2. Keep appliance cords dry and free from oil or grease.

3. When disconnecting appliances, never "jerk" the cord out of electric outlets.

4. Avoid knotting or kinking cords.

5. Oil motor driven appliances frequently. A drop or two makes a difference.

6. Protect the rubber on the wringer of your washing machine by relieving pressure on wringer rolls when not in use.

7. Dump the collected dirt from the bag of your electric vacuum cleaner frequently.

8. Frequent defrosting of your electric refrigerator increases efficiency and lowers electric consumption.

9. Do not permit cooking foods to boil over on electric heating elements. Should this occur, clean immediately.

BRUNSON'S KILL BATTLE-SCARRED RAPTLESNARE

Mr. Fox Brunson brought a 516-700 rattlesnake to his home, which he had killed that morning.

Mr. Brunson said that his 10-year-old son, Marion, discovered the serpent under a bank along the river, about a mile east of his home. Marion watched the snake and kept him occupied for half an hour by poking him with a stick whenever the reptile had a notion to change location.

By that time Mr. Brunson arrived on the scene and killed the rattler (which was not a rattler) with a knife which Marion had sharpened to a keen edge during the half hour while he had been keeping her over the snake.

A peculiar characteristic of the long snake was that several inches of his tail were cut off and he died a few days later.

America is at war. No new tires are being manufactured for passenger cars. We must keep 27,000,000 cars on our highways or else we might lose this war.

America must be "kept on wheels."

We must conserve the passenger transportation we now have or else there will be no victory for us.

Death would be preferable to no victory.

Therefore, the conservation of America's transportation becomes a matter of life and death.

Our transportation system can be prolonged by the effective use of our present 27,000,000 passenger cars in the country.

Formation of "Share-Your-Car" clubs is one of the most essential and important factors in the conservation of our transportation system.

Our soldiers must have arms. Defense plants have to operate. Ships must be built to send those arms to our soldiers. Neither arms or ships can be built if men cannot get to the factories to build them.

We have no choice. We must form "Share-Your-Car" clubs if we are to win this war. Is this too great a price to ask for victory?

Only by careful rationing of the nation's precious rubber can we expect to win the war. A great burden and a responsible task is placed upon the shoulders of every person in this nation entrusted with the job of rationing tires.

It, therefore, becomes the duty of every American to join in this great campaign to "Keep America On Wheels."

JERSEY GIRL TO WAIT FOR FRIEND PRISONER

CAMDEN, N. J., Sept. 11.—Louise Holland, 22, said today she had received a typewritten letter signed by her fiancé, John Dean, 21, a sailor who had been missing in action last December.

The letter said Dean was a Japanese prisoner and closed with the words:

"Being as how I don't know when we shall meet again, I will release you from all promises."

Louise said she would wait.

We have a new word in our dictionary, a word that is on everyone's lips, that comes into every conversation, that hangs over every purchase, that is taking an unprecedented part in our daily lives. It is the word "priority."

Just what does priority mean? The answer is very simple. Priority is simply putting first things first.

As a nation and individuals, we have one job today—the job of winning this war. This must come before anything else, because, if we don't win it, there won't be anything else.

Here is where priority comes in. Priority means that we must put the war effort first. We must ask ourselves before we buy anything, whether or not it is essential. We must use our money for war bonds, not for luxuries. War bonds have priority on all spare cash—and spare cash means all that is not needed for bare living expenses. We must remember that non-essentials not only take money, but they take man-power to make and transport; they take space needed for war materials; they use up steel and rubber and gas to move them from place to place. Luxuries do not have priority. They are "out"—for the duration.

Priority means that we must work hard at those things which are essential. In industry, if we have the strength, in civilian defense, and other volunteer war tasks, if we cannot give all our time. We must remember that there is priority on our ability to work, and because of that priority we must keep fit and ready to do our share.

Priority means that we must have no time to indulge in hatred, prejudice or discrimination, or in the spreading of ill-feeling toward any group of our fellow citizens. All of our energies must be devoted to the one end of winning the war quickly. There is no priority on personal dislikes and morale-sapping grudges—and above all in passing on subversive rumors.

There is no priority on careless talk. Let's not cavil at the discomforts of priorities. Let's use the word for what it is—a help in winning this war speedily. We can win it, if we bend every effort to the task—and if we put first things first.

ORDER OF PUBLICATION

WILL THERMON, Complainant, vs. FANNIE THERMON, Respondent in the Circuit Court of Coffee County, Alabama, Elba Division, in Equity.

To Fannie THERMON: Take notice that there has been a bill of complaint filed in this court against you by Will THERMON in which she seeks a divorce. You are required to plead, answer or demur to said bill of complaint in this cause by the 3rd day of October, 1942, or in thirty days thereafter a decree pro confesso may be taken against you.

Dated this 3rd day of September, 1942.

America is at war. No new tires are being manufactured for passenger cars. We must keep 27,000,000 cars on our highways or else we might lose this war.

America must be "kept on wheels."

We must conserve the passenger transportation we now have or else there will be no victory for us.

Death would be preferable to no victory.

Therefore, the conservation of America's transportation becomes a matter of life and death.

Our transportation system can be prolonged by the effective use of our present 27,000,000 passenger cars in the country.

Formation of "Share-Your-Car" clubs is one of the most essential and important factors in the conservation of our transportation system.

Our soldiers must have arms. Defense plants have to operate. Ships must be built to send those arms to our soldiers. Neither arms or ships can be built if men cannot get to the factories to build them.

We have no choice. We must form "Share-Your-Car" clubs if we are to win this war. Is this too great a price to ask for victory?

Only by careful rationing of the nation's precious rubber can we expect to win the war. A great burden and a responsible task is placed upon the shoulders of every person in this nation entrusted with the job of rationing tires.

It, therefore, becomes the duty of every American to join in this great campaign to "Keep America On Wheels."
